If there is a Change of purpose

We will only use your personal information for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose.

If we need to use your personal information for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

Please note that we may process your personal information without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules, where this is required or permitted by law.

4. How do we protect your information?

We will take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that your data is treated securely and in accordance with this privacy policy. You can be sure we take the security of your information very seriously and we are committed to protecting your personal information against unauthorized use or disclosure.

Once your data arrives at Fairfield, we use appropriate procedures and technical security measures to safeguard your information across all our computer systems, networks, websites, mobile apps, and offices.

If you have any concerns about the security of your own personal computers and mobile devices, we suggest you read the advice of 'Get Safe Online'.

Opting out

You can ask us or third parties to stop sending you marketing messages by updating your marketing preferences or by contacting us at any time.

Third-party marketing

We will get your express opt-in consent before we share your personal data with any company outside the Fairfield group of companies for marketing purposes.

5. Disclosure of Personal Data

Fairfield will share your personal data with third parties for the purpose of providing our services to you for the purposes set out.

Internal Third Parties

Existing clients: This is because you have viewed or submitted an offer and the requirement to communicate your viewing feedback or report your offer.

Companies within our group: This is because we hope to have a relationship with you across all our different companies and we want to be able to provide you with the same high-quality experience whenever and however you liaise with us.

External Third Parties

- The people who provide our internal software, websites, mobile apps, and related services to you: They include but not limited to: Above digital, Acquaint software, Brief Your Market, Sage, LeadPro, Box, Inventorybase, Signable, Messagebird.
- Approved contractors: To install for sale or to let boards, to instruct maintenance contractors and managing agents, to arrange EPC visits, to arrange for contractors to provide safety & statutory tests and inventory clerks to complete the inventory process.
- Professional advisers: Acting as processors or joint controllers including solicitors, Conveyancers, Mortgage brokers, banks, surveyors, and insurance companies based within the EEA who provide consultancy, banking, legal, insurance and professional services.
- Credit / reference agencies: who supply tenancy referencing and Anti-money Laundering information to us. Where anti-fraud is concerned, the organisations concerned may hold your information on file for future anti-fraud-prevention purposes.
- Third-party companies: whose services we offer and introduce you to with your permission.
- Social media companies such as Facebook and Twitter: and our advertising partners to enable us to run targeted promotions for you on their platforms.
- Any new business partners: We may, for example, in the event of a joint venture, reorganisation, business merger or sale that affects us.
- HM Revenue & Customs, regulators, and other authorities: acting as processors or joint controllers based in the United Kingdom who require reporting of processing activities in certain circumstances.
- Other people who make a 'subject access request': Where we are required to do so by law.
- We may also share the information we collect where we are legally obliged to do so, e.g., to comply with a court order.

Social media, blogs, and reviews

- Any social media posts or comments you send to us: that appear on the Fairfields Facebook page, for instance, will be shared under the terms of the relevant social media platform (e.g., Facebook or Twitter) on which they're written, and could be made public. Other people, not us, control these platforms. We're not responsible for this kind of sharing. Before you make any remarks or observations about anything, you should review the terms and conditions and privacy policies of the social media platforms you use. That way, you'll understand how they will use your information, what information relating to you they will place in the public domain, and how you can stop them from doing so if you're unhappy about it. It's worth remembering too that any blog, review, or other posts or comments you make about us, our products, and services on any of our blogs, reviews or user community services will be shared with all other members of that service and the public at large. You should take extra care to ensure that any comments you make on these services, and on social media in general are fit to be read by the public, and are not offensive, insulting, or defamatory. Ultimately, you are responsible for ensuring that any comments you make comply with any relevant policy on acceptable use of those services.
- Mobile app platforms: Our mobile apps run on third-party software platforms, for example, Apple's iOS platform, which powers Apple's iPhone, and Google's Android platform, which powers Android-based smartphones. If you use any of our mobile apps, your usage of those apps is also subject to the relevant mobile app platform provider's terms and conditions and privacy policy. You should review their terms and conditions and privacy policy to ensure you understand what information (if any) they will gather on you, how they will use that information, and what you may be able to do if you are unhappy about it.
- Third parties: We may sell, transfer, or merge parts of our business or our assets. Alternatively, we may seek to acquire other businesses or merge with them. If a change happens to our business, then the new owners may use your personal data in the same way as set out in this privacy notice. We require all third parties to respect the security of your personal data and to treat it in accordance with the law.

We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes and only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

6. How long do we keep your information for?

To make sure we meet our legal data protection and privacy obligations, we only hold on to your information for as long as we need it for the purposes, we acquired it for in the first place. In most cases, this means we will keep your information for as long as you continue to use our services, and for a period afterwards if you stop doing so just in case you begin using our services again.

After that we will either delete it or anonymise it so that it cannot be linked back to you. By law we must keep basic information about our customers (including Contact, Identity, Financial and Transaction Data) for six years after they cease being customers for tax purposes. In some circumstances you can ask us to delete your data, see 'Deleting your personal information' below.

7. How do you find out what information we hold about you?

You have the right to obtain a copy of the personal data that we hold in relation to you. To view a copy free of charge, please write to:

Data Protection Officer
Fairfield Estate Agents Ltd
1 Station Approach,
Watford WD19 7DT

Dataprotectionofficer@fairfieldestates.co.uk

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access the information (or to exercise any of your other rights). Please ensure that you provide evidence of your identity, such as a copy of your passport when writing, so that we can be sure that the request is from the right person. This is another appropriate security measure to ensure that personal information is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it. We try to respond to all legitimate requests within one month.

Deleting your personal information

You can request us to delete or anonymise all personal information relating to you. This is sometimes known as the right to be forgotten. Please forward any request to:

Data Protection Officer
Fairfield estate Agents Ltd
1 Station Approach,
Watford WD19 7DT

Dataprotectionofficer@fairfieldestates.co.uk

There may be circumstances where we are unable to delete some or all your personal information, for example due to our regulatory and legal obligations. In every case a response will be provided to you.

Fees for excessive or unreasonable requests

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal information (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request for access is unfounded or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with the request in such circumstances.

Data Protection Officer

The Fairfield's Data Protection Officer (DPO) oversees compliance with this privacy notice. If you have any questions or concerns about this Privacy Notice or how we handle your personal information, please contact the DPO at dataprotectionofficer@fairfieldstates.co.uk

You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) <https://ico.org.uk/>, the UK supervisory authority for data protection issues.

Changes to this privacy policy

We reserve the right to update this Privacy Policy at any time, and we will provide you with a new Privacy Policy when we make any substantial updates. We may also notify you in other ways from time to time about the processing of your personal information.

Cookie policy

A Cookie is a small text file sent by a web browser and saved on your computer or internet enabled device. You can set your browser to control whether you accept cookies or not. Please be aware if you disable or refuse cookies some parts of our website may not function properly to provide the best experience.

Cookies cannot read data on your computer or instruct your computer to perform a function or share personal information.

We use cookies to track your usage to enable us to help provide the best user experience when visiting our website. A cookie provides us with information such as repeat users, which pages you visit, the date, time, and length of your visit, as well as the site from which you have come (for example Google) and your IP address.

Fairfield use Google Analytics, Google AdWords, and Google Ads Manager, which is a service provided by Google. We also use the Facebook pixel on our website.

Users may opt-out of Google's use of cookies by visiting the Google Advertising Opt-out Page. Users may opt out of Google Analytics by visiting the Google Analytics Opt-out Page.

Cookie types:

Session Cookies. Session cookies last for the duration of your visit and are deleted when you close your browser. These allow various tasks such as allowing a website to identify that a user of a particular device is navigating from page to page, supporting website security or basic functionality.

Analytical/performance cookies. They allow us to recognise how visitors move around our website and count the number of visitors using it. This helps us to provide the best user experience when visiting our website.

Functionality cookies. These are used to recognise when you return to our website and remember the choices you made to enhance the features you may have previously used on our site.

Targeting cookies. These cookies allow us to deliver adverts relevant to your interests by recording your visit to our website and the pages you have visited. We may also use this information to limit the number of times you see an advert.
